A word from the breed leaders...

AYRSHIRE

"A sale of this quality doesn't happen very often - particularly across all breeds - and I congratulate the vendors for offering some of their best stock from their proven female families. The Ayrshire breed is riding a crest of a wave with recent show successes, and because it's not very often that you find a 100% Ayrshire herd nowadays, it's good to see a number included in the one catalogue. I'd also like to acknowledge the promoters for cataloguing animals from the breed's leading type studs, and wish the vendors and purchasers all the best for a great event."

- Donald Green, President
- Ayrshire New Zealand.

HOLSTEIN

"The main advantage I see with this sale is that the organisers have managed to get good quality stock across all breeds, and present them collaboratively in the one sale. I am especially happy to see an emphasis on the breed integration, because there is a groundswell of young people who are keen on it. And, we are seeing more and more young breeders originally from one breed dabbling with various animals from other breeds. It's nice to see that interest and energy in the next generation. The initiative is good, and we hope that it's a successful event."

- Hennie Verwaayen, President -
New Zealand Holstein Friesian Association.

MILKING SHORTHORN

"It's not always easy to stand out in an all breeds catalogue. Westell Supreme Abbie may be the sole Milking Shorthorn in this offering. But she's bred to be good, with multiple IDW Champions on both the top and bottom side of her pedigree."

- Duncan Pipe,
Autumn Harvest Sale Promotion.

BROWN SWISS

"Brown Swiss New Zealand is very happy and pleased to be part of this event. Brown Swiss have been in New Zealand for some time, and it's great that we're finally getting some industry recognition. This sale is certainly a way of showcasing the best genetics in New Zealand, and the world. I also think that we needed an event - especially after M.bovis and Covid-19. We now have breeders of all breeds investing. And, I think people who have an open mind - who have been around the world - like having a Brown Swiss in their herd."

I hope this sale keeps going for the future, because it gives our breeders opportunities to enjoy a common event, and to get into different breeds."

- Tony Buehler, President - Brown Swiss

jersey^{NZ}

JERSEY

"A great opportunity to purchase from a diverse range of genetics. Jersey NZ takes this opportunity to wish both vendors and purchasers every success."

- Alison Gibb, President - Jersey NZ.

WELCOME

TO THE AUTUMN HARVEST SALE.

While I may have initiated this gathering of all breeds, what has been really exciting for me is just how quickly and thoroughly vendors and potential buyers have embraced it.

I've been questioned throughout the lead-up about how we were able to gather so many profile animals from 30 of the country's best breeders (and international vendors). And, as time as gone on I think the answer has been pretty straight-forward.

COWMEN GEAR UP

One person can't do these sales alone. This sale has happened because of the team of great cowmen I have around me, who are smart, progressive, and who all have a strong following.

They excel at what they do. The sense of sale ownership they all have has been incredible. And, when it's been added to the energy coming at us from within the wider industry regarding sale animals - it makes us feel that we've done the right thing. That the industry wanted a special occasion.

I have to thank the vendors for putting their best forward, and for making this event possible. Without them, none of us would be having this conversation.

THE BEST OF THE BEST

We are proud to include the best cow families across all breeds in New Zealand, in addition to genetics from our international colleagues through embryo packages.

We're going to be talking genomics, type, and pedigree. With regard to the live lots, I had initially planned to focus only on everything under 12mths old, but as time wore on, I felt we had to open it up and so we have also included some in-calf heifers, some fresh cows with autumn milk, some spring calvers, and some first-choice females.

WHY TERMS?

I think it's important to mention the terms - which are 50 percent down, with the balance in six months. While it's been a pretty good season, we think this potentially gives our buyers some additional breathing space. If terms aren't available on any lots, it will be stated in the catalogue. Please check carefully.

I'd encourage anyone with any questions to please contact us. We are here to help, explain and/or guide, if anyone needs it.

This has been planned as an event, and the Cambridge Raceway is the perfect venue. We look forward to harnessing the energy there, and helping you hand-pick from the Autumn Harvest we've assembled.

Thank you, and we all look forward to your company on sale night. If you can't be here, it will be available at www.elitelivestockauctions.com.au

PROBIOTIC REVOLUTION BECOMING A REVELATION...

Probiotic Revolution's probiotics and digestive enzymes have been formulated at unprecedented levels – giving New Zealand farmers unmatched results. Coupled with strong global movements to reduce antibiotic dependence in feed-producing animals there has never been a more compelling reason to join the “Probiotic Revolution”.

NEW... JUST IN

Find out more about Probiotic Revolution's “pathway to zero antibiotics” at dry-off, and/or in mastitis treatment from its updated website -

www.probioticrevolution.com.au

What does the future of probiotic solutions look like within modern farming?

Cows

- ☑ Increased immunity
- ☑ Reduced antibiotic use
- ☑ Consistent milk solids
- ☑ Extended peak milk-flow
- ☑ Consistent fertility
- ☑ Reduced grain inputs to maintain production
- ☑ Lower Somatic Cell Counts
- ☑ Consistent rumen health and development
- ☑ Increased fibre utilisation
- ☑ Reduced manure and nitrogen outputs
- ☑ Less sub-acute ruminal acidosis

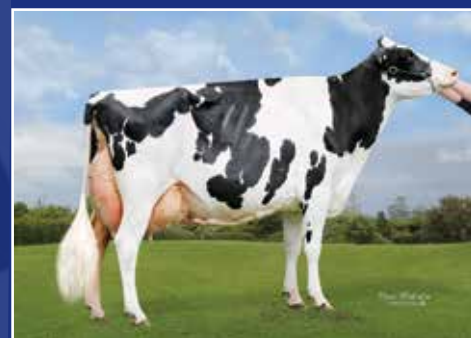

Calves

- ☑ Faster growth and development
- ☑ Once-a-day feeding safely with high milk volumes
- ☑ Stronger immunity and/or recovery
- ☑ Reduced antibiotic use
- ☑ Higher first-lactation production potential

Marketing is about so much more than the message.

It's about how that message is handled...

Don't underestimate stress's negative impact on calf GROWTH and IMMUNITY

Stress makes calves grow slower and weakens their immune system, making them more susceptible to disease. It's important to manage stress levels to ensure your calves are healthy and productive.

Wearing their heart on their sleeve

That's why from the European show to the best dicker on Earth, dairy industry leaders are embracing... and the industry's future.

It's not just the professional body that sometimes holds over circumstances that make it hard to wear their hearts on their sleeves. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake.

THE HARD WORK is at done...

TE HAU HOLLSTERS

HISTORY CREATES THE FUTURE

The Sheehan family has carefully honed their skills in remote dairy farming locations - never making excuses for the day-to-day challenges that farming makes on families who want to pursue individual career performance.

Game-Changer
IN A GAME THAT NEEDS CHANGING

'We have made people uncomfortable ... AND WE ARE COMFORTABLE WITH THAT'

It's not just the professional body that sometimes holds over circumstances that make it hard to wear their hearts on their sleeves. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake.

YOUR DAIRY, YOUR WAY
A word to the wise

Building a new dairy is a critical decision for any dairy farmer. That's because the biggest to build new ground for a multi-million dollar capital investment in concrete, steel and technology also has the power to make or break a property's function or use, changing on personal variables.

All of which can't be overstated enough, according to a man who's spent everything Dairy is 30 years in the space - Seymour's Specialist Dairy Project manager, Nick Pickett.

Nick says he now builds a new home without extensive plans and designs, yet he still saves enough dairy operations pushing ahead with a new build, based on a design sketched on the back of a cigarette packet.

And, he says that of today's market - if you're failing to plan, you're planning to fail.

LOCKERROOM

Where is she now? Julie Seymour

Former Silver Ferns captain Julie Seymour was denied a World Cup title three times, but she's found new reward as a coach, teacher and mum.

The hardest knocks gave Julie Seymour the biggest opportunities of her career.

Shooting straight and straight shooting

If you're gonna do it... do it once...do it right

TO FOCUS BEANS OF KNIFE TO FINGER COVERS? That's the question. One sure thing in modern dairy stories is that there are many ways to farm - and no one way dairy right nor wrong.

The price tag is significant.

"Dairy comfort" and all that which is being a big business.

The days of standard water and predominantly pasture-based farming are gone as is the case with traditional dairy. The more specialized dairy farming, but also, "based with many more and better and better which is coming (looking for some) and the reality is that most other dairy farms are still in a state of flux, with many still in a state of flux, with many still in a state of flux.

It's not just the professional body that sometimes holds over circumstances that make it hard to wear their hearts on their sleeves. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake.

Setting the Bar High

Finding a way forward in dairy

The converted barn in the UK that Brent and Ann Clifton call home is a world away from dairy farming in New Zealand.

Surrounded by hills on the day Clifton visited their detached home in the dairy town of Oremouth is three hours north-west of London. It is a very prettily furnished area who has the golden touch when it comes to buying a shed into a home.

Many left about change. You usually do it and then later find it close with an much comedy and sadness as the result.

Brent was 40 when he was asked if he would like to become the UK Sales Manager for Milkmaid Milking Systems (MMS), an Irish system, before accepting the post. Because he already knew she would support the move.

There's a lot of work through their success and the article that if you're in the business - change the way

Shooting straight and straight shooting

It's not just the professional body that sometimes holds over circumstances that make it hard to wear their hearts on their sleeves. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake. It's the industry's future that's at stake.
